

Electronic Records Archives

Electronic Records Archives:

Philadelphia Federal Executive Board

L. Reynolds Cahoon
Assistant Archivist for HR and IT
and
Chief Information Officer
18 March 2004

Agenda

- National Archives and Records Administration (The Mission)
- Electronic Records Archives (The System)
- Electronic Records Archives (The Users)
- Electronic Records Archives (The Program)

The National Archives & Records Administration (The Mission)

“The National Archives is a public trust on which our democracy depends. It enables people to inspect for themselves the record of what government has done. It enables officials and agencies to review their actions and helps citizens hold them accountable. It ensures continuing access to essential evidence that documents:

- the rights of American citizens
- the actions of Federal officials
- the national experience”

The National Archives & Records Administration (The Mission)

A Record - Documentary material of any form

- Made or received in the course of business or under law, and
- Kept because it
 - provides evidence of organization, functions, policies, decisions, procedures, operations, or other activities of their creators, or
 - contains valuable information

The National Archives & Records Administration (The Mission)

The Challenge of Electronic Records

- Scope – The Entire Federal Government
- Variety – Different Types of Records
- Complexity – Increasingly Sophisticated Formats
- Volume – Vast Quantities of Records
- Obsolescence – Constantly Changing Technology
- User Expectations – Evolving

The National Archives & Records Administration (The Mission)

A Tidal Wave is Coming

Clinton Administration (6 Terabytes)

- 40 million email messages

State Department (.5 Terabytes)

- 25 million electronic diplomatic messages

Department of Defense (8 Terabytes)

- 54 million images from electronic official military personnel files annually

Census Bureau (44 Terabytes)

- 600 to 800 million image files (2000 census)

ERA's Vision Statement

"ERA will authentically preserve and provide access to any kind of electronic record, free from dependency on any specific hardware or software, enabling NARA to carry out its mission into the future."

John W. Carlin, Archivist of the United States

Electronic Records Archives (The System)

The goal is to create a capability that will:

- Preserve authentically any type of electronic record,
- Created using any type of computer application,
- On any computing platform,
- From any entity in the Federal Government and any donor.
- Provide discovery and delivery to anyone with an interest and legal right of access,
- Now and for the life of the republic

The Electronic Records Archives (The System)

NARA's Current Electronic Records System

- NARA has 30 years of experience with electronic records
- Simple Files
 - Comma delimited
 - ASCII
 - Flat Fixed Length
- Does not meet the need

Electronic Records Archives (The System)

Current Government and Private Sector Partners

National Science
Foundation

Global
Grid
Forum

San Diego Super
Computer Center

National Computational
Science Alliance

Army Research Laboratory

National Institute of Standards
& Technology

National Partnership for Advanced Computational
Infrastructure

The Library of Congress

DIGITAL LIBRARY
FEDERATION

Electronic Records Archives (The System)

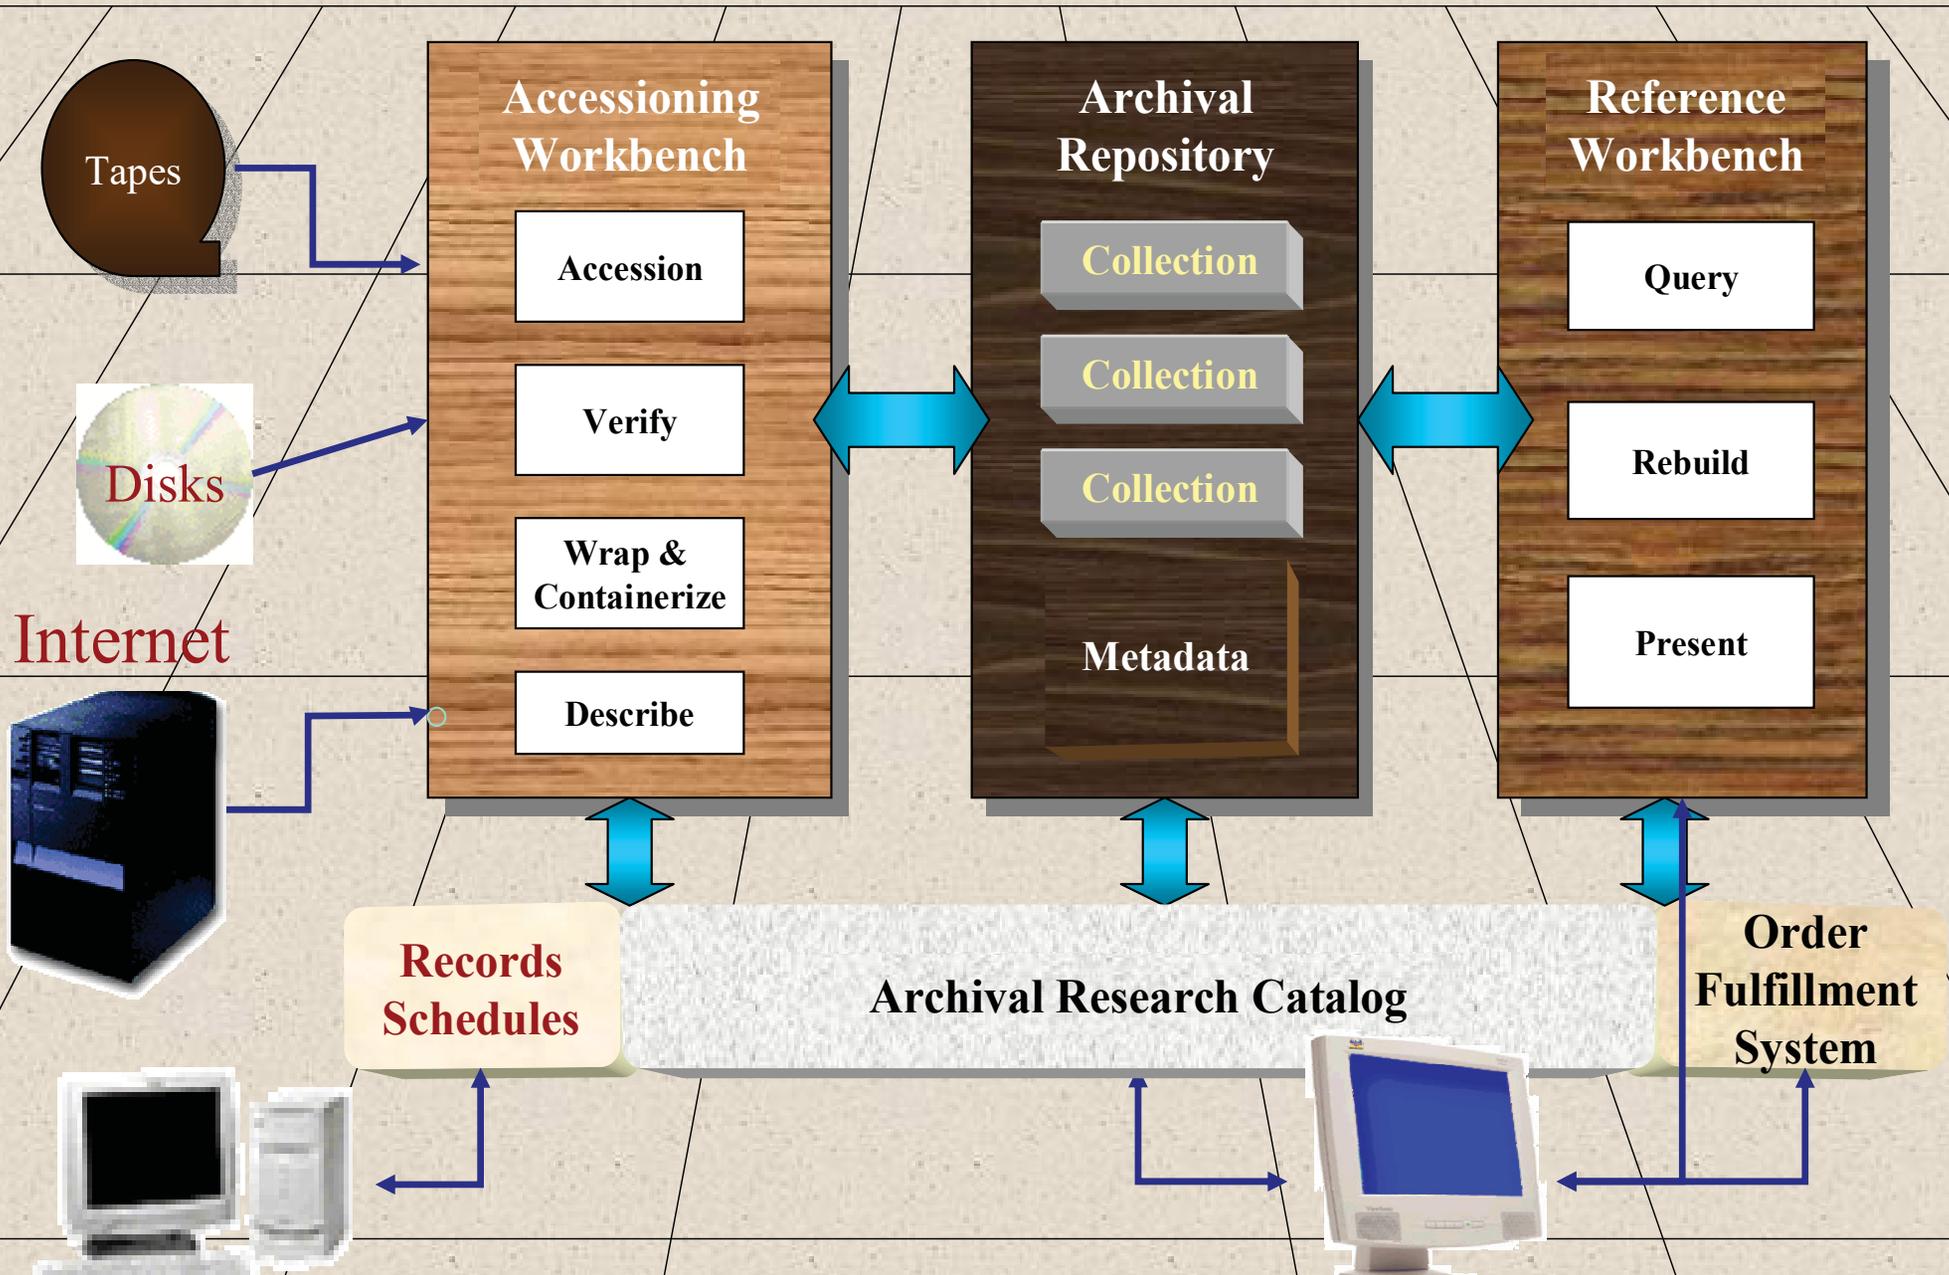

ERA Requirements

- Persistent
 - To manage and access the records over time.
- Authentic
 - To ensure that these are the original records
 - Records that are created with attached documentary information
- Scalable
 - To grow and adapt to increasing volumes and evolving types of electronic records
 - To serve a variety of user groups

How will ERA Work?

Electronic Records Archives: (The System)

What will the system do? (The System)

- Support the collection, integration, and sharing of information about records.
- Support the workflow associated with business processes.
- Interoperate with other systems.
- Maintain a complete audit trail.
- Accommodate substantial growth in volume & variety.
- Protect the system and the records with state-of-the-art security.
- **•••••

Electronic Records Archives (The Users)

Who are the ERA Users?

- Researchers
- Historians
- Genealogists
- Citizens
- Archivists
- Librarians
- Chief Information Officers
- Federal Records Officers
- Information Resource Managers
- NARA staff
- Donors
- Attorneys
- Sociologists
- Economists
- Geographers
- Federal Program Officials
- Businesses
- . . .

The Electronic Records Archives (The Program)

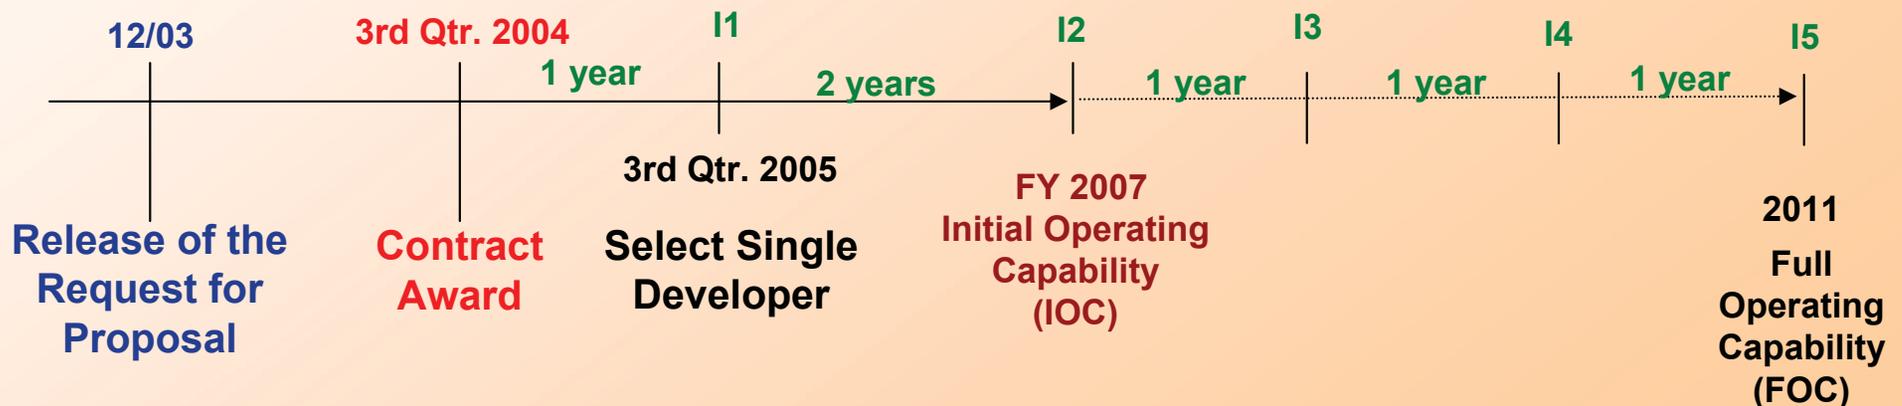

- The Archivist established the ERA Program as an official division of NARA
- Research partnerships are formed to find solutions to the electronics archiving challenge
- Contractor Team hired to assist with program management
- Request for Proposal issued
- Bids received (11 Feb 04)

The ERA Program (The Program)

Where are we now?

- Release of RFP – 12/03
- Award Two Design Contracts – 3rd Qtr. FY04
- Select a Single Developer – 3rd Qtr. FY05
- Initial Operating Capability – FY 2007
- Five Increments w/ Multiple Releases
- Full Operating Capability - 2011

Electronic Records Archives (The Program)

- Test online public access in the Virtual Archives Laboratory
- Official Military Personnel Files
- Continue Research and Development
- Census 2006 (Mountain of Information is coming)

Electronic Records Archives (Contact Information)

Program Management Information

ERA Main Phone Number:
(301) 837-0740

ERA PMO E-mail:
ERA.Program@nara.gov

ERA Acquisitions E-mail:
ERA.Acquisition@nara.gov

ERA Website:
www.archives.gov/electronic_records_archives

